Autopen Questions

What is the document about?

The American Meteorological Society (AMS) promotes the development and dissemination of information and education on atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic sciences and the advancement of their professional applications. Founded in 1919, AMS has a membership of more than 14,000 professionals, students, and weather enthusiasts. AMS publishes eleven atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic journals – in print and on line – sponsors at least twelve conferences annually, and offers numerous programs and services. The Annual Meeting of the AMS is the largest meeting in the United States, of professionals, students and weather enthusiasts from across the Weather, Water and Climate enterprise. Thousands of attendees come together from all over the U.S. and abroad to learn from each other share ideas, and ultimately improve the enterprise's benefits to society.

This year's theme is "Understanding and Building Resilience to Extreme Events by Being Interdisciplinary, International, and Inclusive (III)".

Who said it needs to be signed immediately?

In submitting this waiver request, NOAA has indicated that the AMS Meeting is the premiere gathering of the entire Weather Enterprise, comprised of private companies, media, academic, and government institutions that provide observations, analysis, and value-added weather products to business and the public.

What will happen if it doesn't get signed immediately?

The AMS annual meeting requires approval by December 3, 2018, in order to take advantage of the early bird registration rates, which could save the federal government estimated $19,000 in travel costs. The early bird registration rates expire on December 5, 2018 and over 400+ NOAA employees need to finalize all travel arrangements.

Subject: AMS Conference - Official NOAA Participation Cancelled

Distribution: NOAA Employees Scheduled to Attend AMS Annual Meeting

NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the AMS; all official NOAA travel to the AMS is cancelled. As Group Travel lead for the AMS Conference, NWS is distributing this email to all on the Group Travel List. We ask that senior leaders in an Excepted or Intermittent status use phone trees to ensure all employees are aware of this decision. Dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.

Starting today, NOAA will take actions for prudent cost avoidance.

- 1) Registration Fees: NOAA will send the AMS a list of all NOAA employees on the approved group travel list, and will ask that our pre-registrations be cancelled, and funds reimbursed (less the $75 processing fee). The AMS has agreed that this is the most efficient approach for them. You should receive a verification of this cancellation from AMS to your NOAA email. This is a change from yesterday's guidance.
- 2) Airline Tickets & SATO reservations: NOAA is notifying SATO that travel to Phoenix for all on the group travel list should be cancelled. This may begin earlier than the normal 24h cancellation process.

Employee Responsibility:

- 3) Hotel Reservations: We recommend all employees personally call their hotel to cancel their reservation to avoid a cancellation fee. Most reservations were not made through SATO. If you do not cancel your hotel reservations before the deadline, you will not be reimbursed for any costs incurred.

Following is additional guidance provided by the NOAA General Counsel in coordination with NOAA AGO:

- NOAA personnel who would have been speakers at the conference may not attend in their personal capacity and continue to be speakers. This includes in person and remote presentations (for example, teleconference).
- NOAA personnel who would be mere attendees at the conference may attend in their personal capacity at their own expense and without reimbursement when the lapse in appropriations ends. In the event the lapse ends while the conference is ongoing and an employee chose to attend the conference in their personal capacity, the employee may be placed in a leave status.

- NOAA personnel who previously registered using their Government-issued travel cards to pay for the conference registration, if NOAA's participation at the conference must be cancelled because of the continuation of the lapse:
 - NOAA must inform those employees who would otherwise have been attending as speakers or attendees in their official capacity that NOAA must cancel its participation.
 - All travel authorizations must be rescinded and employees must be told that official travel is being cancelled.
 - Employees may optionally attend the conference in their personal capacity.
 - If the employee registered BEFORE the lapse in appropriations and used a Government-issued travel card to cover the registration fee, then:
 - If the employee decides to attend in their personal capacity, NOAA will not reimburse the employee for their registration fee, and if the employee has already been reimbursed by NOAA for use of their travel card, the employee must remit the cost of the registration fee back to NOAA. The amount remitted may be credited back to the appropriation account from which it came as a refund.
 - If the employee decides NOT to attend in their personal capacity, they should cancel their registration. Employees should seek reimbursement for the cancellation fee that is not credited back to the card or refunded directly to the employee by AMS.
 - If the employee registered AFTER the lapse in appropriations, then the Government will NOT reimburse the employee for any costs the employee incurred.
 - If an employee made their own common carrier or lodging arrangements rather than through the travel management center as required by the FTR and Department policy, and the arrangements are non-refundable, NOAA will be unable to reimburse the employee for any such costs.
- Voluntary services and what may employees can do in their personal capacity vs official capacity. If NOAA made an administrative determination that presenting or moderating a panel was in official capacity, then we must stick with that determination. Employees can not voluntarily offer to perform their function (e.g., record presentation, video teleconference for presentation or panel, etc.)
- Contractors. A number of contractors will also be attending the AMS conference and certain contractor employees also have knowledge related to the issues for which government employees would have been presenting. There are two general variations on these inquiries:

- Company is a contractor, will be at AMS irrespective of government participation, and employees of the Company have relevant knowledge or expertise. If company wants to assist AMS and moderate or present on a topic for which they have employees who have the knowledge and expertise, then it is up them if they as a company want to do so. In this scenario it must be made clear to both AMS and the company that the Government is not asking or directing the company's participation, that its participation/assistance is not within the scope of the contract with the Government, and that company's participation/assistance to AMS is between AMS and company. It should be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with this effort can be billed to the government.
- Company is a contractor, will be at AMS, and was also going as a government support contractor. As a threshold matter, will need to determine what activity they are supporting. If government is not attending, then there is likely no need for support and it is not clear as to what they are supporting. Under this scenario, it should again be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with AMS attendance can be billed to the government.
- If we are able to determine that the company is performing an activity under a government contract that continues at AMS, then will need to make sure:
 - contract was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee contractor (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Financial Assistance Recipients (inclusive of grants, cooperative agreements, and scholarship beneficiaries). A number of financial assistance recipients will also be attending and/or presenting at the AMS conference. This activity may continue consistent with the terms of the financial assistance award.
 - If we are able to determine that the recipient is performing an activity under a financial assistance award, then will need to make sure:
 - the award was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee recipient (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Please coordinate matters related to AMS attendance by contractors and financial assistance recipients with your respective Contracting or Grants Officer as identified in the memorandum entitled "Contract and Grants Guidance during a Lapse in Appropriations,” dated December 22, 2018, issued by the Acquisition and Grants Office (AGO).

NOAA GROUP TRAVEL REQUEST

DUS/O approval is required for groups of fifteen (15) or more employees on domestic travel and eight (8) or more employees on foreign or non-foreign travel, including invitational travelers, traveling to the same location or event and regardless of whether or not NOAA is funding the travel or event. The standard for what travel can be approved is if the travel is essential, attendance must be limited to the minimum participants necessary to accomplish the mission, and less expensive alternatives must be considered (such as conference calls and delegating field personnel to accomplish the proposed mission). Approving officials must consider costs in selecting attendees and meeting locations, including travel to and from the site, ground transportation, lodging, meals and incidental costs, registration fees, meeting room rentals and other related costs including employees' time away from the official duty station. For additional guidance see: <http://www.corporateservices.noaa.gov/finance/GROUP.html>

Instructions: Thirty (30) days in advance of the travel, please fill out this form and submit as follows:

Conference check: Is this group travel request supporting a conference per the five criteria outlined on the Conferences and Group Travel Decision Flow Chart? ☒ Yes ☐ No

1. If yes, in addition to submitting this form (and for informational purposes only) please include conference materials including approval transmittal forms signed by LO DAA or SO Director.
2. If no, submit this form and any associated documentation through your LO or SO CoS (or equivalent POC).
3. Send all materials to the conferences_grouptravel@noaa.gov email address.

Name of Meeting: 2019 99th American Meteorological Society Annual (AMS) Meeting

Dates of Meeting: January 6-10, 2019

Location of Meeting: Phoenix, AZ

Point of Contact: Angela M. Proctor
(301) 427-6946
angela.proctor@noaa.gov

Travelers: Total: 463
NOAA FTEs: 463
Invitational Travelers: 0

Per Diem Rates: $172.00 + $22.36 13% tax = $194.36 lodging; $56.00 M&IE

Total Cost: $1,298,642.03

Purpose of Meeting/Event/Conference/Activity:

1. Describe the purpose of the event.

The purpose of the American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting, promotes the development and dissemination of information and education on atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic sciences and the advancement of their professional applications. Founded in 1919, AMS has a membership of more than 14,000 professionals, students, and weather enthusiasts. AMS publishes eleven atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic journals – in print and online – sponsors at least twelve conferences annually, and offers numerous programs and services. This year's theme – “Understanding and Building Resilience to Extreme Events by Being Interdisciplinary, International, and Inclusive (III)”

2. How is this relevant to NOAA's mission?

NOAA is a science based, service agency. The AMS annual meeting is the largest and most effective event to share and exchange science, and more than that, science that is focused on improving services to society. The presentations and ensuring discussions throughout the 39 individual conferences, symposia, and forums directly address NOAA's strategic objective of building a Weather-Ready Nation to create a society that is ready, responsive, and resilient to the impacts from weather, water, and climate events.

3. Why is it important that NOAA participates in the event? Legislative requirements? International commitments?

NOAA attendees make up a critical part of the weather, water, and climate enterprise. NOAA provides the foundational datasets and products which drive the nation's weather industry. The AMS annual meeting is the best venue for interactions with partners and stakeholders throughout the weather, water, and climate enterprise industry. NOAA attendees present the latest advances from the agency, and when coupled with the discussions that follow the presentations as well as information

4. Is NOAA sponsoring the event? If so, how was the location chosen?

No, NOAA is not sponsoring the event.

Funding:

1. Is funding available for the travel? Are we meeting required cuts to the travel budget?

Yes, funding is available for travel and we have been very deliberate on how many people may attend, taking into account the overall travel budget for FY19 and anticipated travel to other conferences.

2. Provide any other pertinent information related to the travel costs. What is the cost comparison of meals vs. per diem (according to Federal Travel Regulations)?

Per Diem was used for all travelers on all days. The following event is being offered at the 2019 AMS Meeting. An AMS Awards Banquet is included in the registration fees for the conference. Since dinner will be served during the event, each traveler's M&IE will be reduced by $23.00 for the dinner.

3. If there are costs associated with local attendees such as registration (costs included in the table above under Facility/Meeting/Registration/Other costs), list the number of local attendees:

WFO Phoenix has 5 local staff attending the AMS Conference, and the local costs include registration fees and local commuting travel to and from the meeting.

4. List the costs for the travel.

Total Travelers #	Total Lodging Costs (#5 nights)	Total Per Diem Costs (#7 days)	Flights / Transportation Costs	Facility / Meeting / Registration/ Other Costs	Total Estimated Costs
463	$447,958.96	$152,347.22	$285,587.86	$412,747.99	$1,289,642.03

Efforts to minimize the total cost of travel:

1. Describe all efforts to reduce the cost of the travel.

The convention center in Phoenix, Arizona is an inexpensive venue and locale to hold a conference. The costs to NOAA are travel, registration fees and abstract fees for those presenting.

2. If available, provide historical comparisons in regards to number of attendees and total costs.

The number of attendees and costs for this Phoenix AMS is similar to the number of attendees and total costs for previous two AMS Conferences.

2018 – Austin, Texas

- Travelers – 424
- $1,111,197.00

2017 – Seattle, Washington

- Travelers – 452
- $1,393,650.00

3. What is the absolute minimum number of attendees necessary for this activity and what steps have been taken in determining this?

Minimum number of attendees: 463

NOAA is a science-based service organization with a focus on working with our partners in academia, emergency management, and broadcast meteorology-to build a Weather-Ready Nation. NOAA cannot achieve a Weather-Ready Nation alone. Thus, NOAA is expanding partnerships into new areas, and with new sectors, including health, energy, and insurance just to name a few. All NOAA attendees will contribute toward this end by attending this conference in any of these roles: AMS council member, committee chair or member, session chair, speed mentor, poster presenter, speaker, stakeholder engagement etc.

Other:

1. Provide any other information relevant to the group travel request.

There will be an Ice Breaker Reception that will have a cash bar. NWS employees are not obligated to attend. If attendees choose to attend, they will be responsible for paying from their personal funds for the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

2. If a conference, are there conference fees, speakers, or awards? If yes, what is the associated cost to NOAA for each?

AMS is a conference, there are no awards fees, speaker fees. We are requesting travel expenses, abstract fees, and the registration fee.

MEMORANDUM FOR Chief Financial Officer and Assistant Secretary for Administration

FROM: Louis W. Uccellini
Assistant Administrator

SUBJECT: NOAA Approval for the 2019 – 99th Annual American
Meteorological Society (AMS) Meeting, January 6-10, 2019

The purpose of The 99th Annual Meeting of the American Meteorological Society (AMS), promotes the development and dissemination of information and education on atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic sciences and the advancement of their professional applications. Founded in 1919, AMS has a membership of more than 14,000 professionals, students, and weather enthusiasts. AMS publishes eleven atmospheric and related oceanic and hydrologic journals – in print and online – sponsors at least twelve conferences annually, and offers numerous programs and services. The Annual Meeting of the AMS is the largest meeting in the United States of professionals, students and weather enthusiasts from across the Weather, Water, and Climate enterprise. Thousands of attendees come together from all over the U.S. and abroad to learn from each other share ideas, and ultimately improve the enterprise's benefits to society. The AMS includes 38 individual conferences, symposia and forums, each with a particular theme and purpose. This year's conference theme is "Understanding and Building Resilience to Extreme Events by Being Interdisciplinary, International, and Inclusive (III)."

NOAA is a science based, service agency. The AMS annual meeting is the largest and most effective event to share and exchange science, and more than that, science that is focused on improving services to society. The presentations and ensuing discussions throughout the 39 individual conferences, symposia, and forums directly address NOAA's strategic objective of building a Weather-Ready Nation to create a society that is ready, responsive, and resilient to the impacts from weather, water, and climate events.

We approve the 2019 – 99th American Meteorological Society (AMS) and confirm this event is mission critical. We would like to request approval of this package by December 3, 2018.

Additionally, we certify to the Department that:

- conference expenses and activities comply with the Federal Travel Regulations (FTR) directives and executive branch policies on conferences as well as the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) requirements on lodging, food and beverages, per diem reimbursement, and contracting of goods and services;

- no federal funds are used for unnecessary or inappropriate purposes;
- conference attendance and expenses are limited to only the levels required to carry out the mission of the conference; and
- conference attendance and expenses are in compliance with all applicable Appropriations Act language and with the Office and Management and Budget Memorandum 17-08 dated November 25, 2016, and other authorities and guidance.

If you have any questions, we are available to discuss at your convenience.

Subject: Voucher Instructions: American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting

Distribution: NOAA Employees Scheduled to Attend Cancelled Annual Meeting

Below are step by step instructions to file your voucher for the American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting. Two items of note up front:

1. These instructions assume there are no hotel cancellation fees.
2. Airfare and TMC fees should be included when filing your voucher. The Airfare was paid through NOAA's Corporate Account and therefore must be included on the travel voucher as a paid expense. If the ticket was canceled, the airfare cost will be refunded back to the agency and NOT the traveler. All other expenses incurred by the traveler must also be included on the Travel Authorization. This may include cancellation fees by the travel agency, conference, hotel, etc.

If you have any additional questions, please check with your travel POC.

1. Click Create Voucher from your AMS Travel Authorization

The screenshot shows the E2Solutions web interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the E2Solutions logo and tabs for MY E2, MY APPROVALS, TRAVEL FOR OTHERS, and REPORTS. Below this is a sub-navigation bar with tabs for At a Glance, Trips, Local Travel, Open Authorization, and Group Authorization. The main content area is titled 'Start a Travel Document'. It contains a form with the text 'What would you like to do today?' and a dropdown menu currently set to 'Make Reservations', followed by a 'Go' button. Below this is a 'To Do List' section. The first item in the list is a link 'Create Voucher' followed by the text 'for Travel Authorization 9860860 99th Annual American Meteorological Society to Phoenix, AZ, United States departing 06-Jan-2019.' The second item is a link 'Complete Voucher' followed by the text 'for Travel Authorization1 Travel Authorization 9827667 to Kansas City, MO, United States departing 12-Dec-2018.' An orange arrow points from the instruction 'Click Create Voucher' to the 'Create Voucher' link in the first item of the 'To Do List'.

Hi Angela,

See my questions and concerns along with the cost breakdown edits. Also noticed you are missing the Wavier of $500,00 Single Conference Limitation document. I've attached the template for you let me know if you need to see an example one.

Also please take a close look at some of the nights columns for some of the travelers, I've added correction columns and a "full days" which is based off the corrected nights column to calculate the correct lodging/M&IE. Some of the travelers have M&IE and not Lodging or they have travel dates and no nights/full days. For those ones I've put in 0 on my correction columns, please review them and add the nights. They can't be flying to Arizona from DC on one day and leaving a few days later and not receive lodging/M&IE. Most of the presenters have this error.

I made sure to use the banquet M&IE to calculate the correct amounts for where it is necessary using the provided calculation chart (Most of these had the wrong number of nights). I don't know if some of the ones I've corrected are for individuals who plan to take leave because the reason for early/late arrival/departure does not specifically state leave (Please view column for yellow highlights were I have concerns. Most just indicate their travel date and most of the lodging was based off of longer nights then stated in the nights column.

Please make changes to the cost breakdown and note the estimated total will change, please make sure to update all documents to reflect the change.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks
Tiffany G.

Hi Angela and Tiffany,

Let me jump in here as we just went through the waiver process for AGU. Attached are the waiver request memo, and the waiver document, which Admiral Gallaudet approved for his signature and transmittal, so they should be good examples for AMS. The waiver request should be kept to under two pages, not including the Secretary's approval page.

Thanks,

EJ

Hi Angela,

I just wanted to let you know I got off the phone with Angela Yee over at DOC to verify the new policy procedures she stated that if there are potential optics that conferences need to be submit to DOC for approval no matter the cost or if it is attended only (see 5th bullet on the DOC Policy). Even though the AMS is attended only on the checklist it stated "yes" that alcohol will be provided not using federal funds. This means the packet will need to go to DOC and its a possibility the December 3rd deadline won't be met since we still don't have a completed packet yet to start routing internally. Because of the cost this packet is going to take some time through the approval cycle and DOC requires at least a month for clearance and approval. I just wanted to give you a heads up on this to pass on to try and get us the packet as soon as possible.

Thanks
Tiffany G.

Hi Tiffany,

Thanks for the update, I had completed the package on yesterday, and when got ready to send all my information in the cost breakdown was lost, so I had to recreate all updates for 463 participants.

I will get this to you no later than this afternoon first thing in the morning. I want to make sure that all documents are correct prior to sending so that I do not run into the same process as before with NWA.

Thank you

Subject Line:	AMS Conference - Official NOAA Participation Cancelled
Distribution:	NOAA Employees Scheduled to Attend AMS Annual Meeting

NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the AMS; all official NOAA travel to the AMS is cancelled. As Group Travel lead for the AMS Conference, NWS is distributing this email to all on the Group Travel List. We ask that senior leaders in an Excepted or Intermittent status use phone trees to ensure all employees are aware of this decision. Dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.

Starting today, NOAA will take actions for prudent cost avoidance.

1. Registration Fees: NOAA will send the AMS a list of all NOAA employees on the approved group travel list, and will ask that our pre-registrations be cancelled, and funds reimbursed (less the $75 processing fee). The AMS has agreed that this is the most efficient approach for them. You should receive a verification of this cancellation from AMS to your NOAA email. This is a change from yesterday's guidance.
2. Airline Tickets & SATO reservations: NOAA is notifying SATO that travel to Phoenix for all on the group travel list should be cancelled. This may begin earlier than the normal 24h cancellation process.

Employee Responsibility:

3. Hotel Reservations: We recommend all employees personally call their hotel to cancel their reservation to avoid a cancellation fee. Most reservations were not made through SATO. If you do not cancel your hotel reservations before the deadline, you will not be reimbursed for any costs incurred.

Following is additional guidance provided by the NOAA General Counsel in coordination with NOAA AGO:

- NOAA personnel who would have been speakers at the conference may not attend in their personal capacity and continue to be speakers. This includes in person and remote presentations (for example, teleconference).
- NOAA personnel who would be mere attendees at the conference may attend in their personal capacity at their own expense and without reimbursement when the lapse in appropriations ends. In the event the lapse ends while the conference is ongoing and an employee chose to attend the conference in their personal capacity, the employee may be placed in a leave status.
- NOAA personnel who previously registered using their Government-issued travel cards to pay for the conference registration, if NOAA's participation at the conference must be cancelled because of the continuation of the lapse:
 - NOAA must inform those employees who would otherwise have been attending as speakers or attendees in their official capacity that NOAA must cancel its participation.
 - All travel authorizations must be rescinded and employees must be told that official travel is being cancelled.
 - Employees may optionally attend the conference in their personal capacity.
 - If the employee registered BEFORE the lapse in appropriations and used a Government-issued travel card to cover the registration fee, then:
 - If the employee decides to attend in their personal capacity, NOAA will not reimburse the employee for their registration fee, and if the employee has already been reimbursed by NOAA for use of their travel card, the employee must remit the cost of the registration fee back to NOAA. The amount remitted may be credited back to the appropriation account from which it came as a refund.
 - If the employee decides NOT to attend in their personal capacity, they should cancel their registration. Employees should seek reimbursement for the cancellation fee that is not credited back to the card or refunded directly to the employee by AMS.
 - If the employee registered AFTER the lapse in appropriations, then the Government will NOT reimburse the employee for any costs the employee incurred.
 - If an employee made their own common carrier or lodging arrangements rather than through the travel management center as required by the FTR and Department policy, and the arrangements are non-refundable, NOAA will be unable to reimburse the employee for any such costs.
- Voluntary services and what may employees can do in their personal capacity vs official capacity. If NOAA made an administrative determination that presenting or moderating a panel was in official capacity, then we must stick with that determination. Employees can not voluntarily offer to perform their function (e.g., record presentation, video teleconference for presentation or panel, etc.)

- Contractors. A number of contractors will also be attending the AMS conference and certain contractor employees also have knowledge related to the issues for which government employees would have been presenting. There are two general variations on these inquiries:
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS irrespective of government participation, and employees of the Company have relevant knowledge or expertise. If company wants to assist AMS and moderate or present on a topic for which they have employees who have the knowledge and expertise, then it is up to them if they as a company want to do so. In this scenario it must be made clear to both AMS and the company that the Government is not asking or directing the company's participation, that its participation/assistance is not within the scope of the contract with the Government, and that company's participation/assistance to AMS is between AMS and company. It should be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with this effort can be billed to the government.
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS, and was also going as a government support contractor. As a threshold matter, will need to determine what activity they are supporting. If government is not attending, then there is likely no need for support and it is not clear as to what they are supporting. Under this scenario, it should again be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with AMS attendance can be billed to the government.
 - If we are able to determine that the company is performing an activity under a government contract that continues at AMS, then will need to make sure:
 - contract was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee contractor (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Financial Assistance Recipients (inclusive of grants, cooperative agreements, and scholarship beneficiaries). A number of financial assistance recipients will also be attending and/or presenting at the AMS conference. This activity may continue consistent with the terms of the financial assistance award.
 - If we are able to determine that the recipient is performing an activity under a financial assistance award, then will need to make sure:
 - the award was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee recipient (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Please coordinate matters related to AMS attendance by contractors and financial assistance recipients with your respective Contracting or Grants Officer as identified in the memorandum entitled "Contract and Grants Guidance during a Lapse in Appropriations," dated December 22, 2018, issued by the Acquisition and Grants Office (AGO).

Dear MaryAnn,

It is obviously very unfortunate as NOAA is such a major player in meteorology and will be thoroughly missed at AMS. We were really looking forward to meeting some of your colleagues next week, but of course the circumstances are fully understandable. Thank you very much for letting us know

Best regards

Dear Florence,

As a courtesy to you as a valued international partner we wanted to let you know that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting and all official NOAA travel to Phoenix is cancelled.

As a result, all participants should have received an email cancelling the January 7th AMS 2019 COSMIC Inter-Agency Working Group Meeting from Bill Schreiner at UCAR.

We regret any inconvenience this may cause and UCAR will be in touch regarding the rescheduling of the meeting once normal operations resume.

Sincerely,

Dear (b) (4),

I regret to inform you that we must cancel next week's Fourth NOAA-CMA High Level Working Group on Satellite Matters (HLWG-4). As your co-chair for Activity 5.1 "CMA - NOAA High Level Working Group (HLWG) on Satellite Matters" I wanted to reach out to you personally even though I know you were unable to join us for the meeting. We were looking forward to hosting (b) (4) and your colleagues in Phoenix for the meeting. Unfortunately, due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting next week. The AMS meeting will continue; however, all official NOAA travel to the meeting has been cancelled.

I recognize that significant planning and expense have been undertaken for this meeting and I sincerely regret any inconvenience this causes CMA. We will be in touch once normal operations resume to discuss rescheduling this meeting.

I hope that if the CMA staff continue with their travel plans they will have a productive trip to Phoenix.

Sincerely,
Mark Paese

Subject: Re: RE: RE: Hotel Confirmations

Dear (b) (4) ,

Happy New Year of 2019 to you and your colleagues!

As you know, you have kindly helped us to reserve 8 single rooms at the Hyatt Regency Phoenix for us to attend meetings in Phoenix, USA to be held next week. Due to the partial shutdown of the U.S. Federal Government, we can NOT attend, regrettably, those meetings as planned. In this connection, I would be appreciated if you us cancel, as soon as possible, the following 8 room reservations.

I understand that the cancellation of this hotel reservation is free of charge and will NOT bring us any cost. Since the date of check-in (8/9 Jan.2019) is approaching, your earliest confirmation on the result of reservation cancel, preferable by 8 Jan. 2019, will be very much appreciated!

Thank you so much for your kind and strong support on this matter!

I wish you all the best in the year of 2019.

Kind regards,

主题: RE: RE: Hotel Confirmations

Hi there,

Here are your answers:

King beds- yes, you are all assigned a king bed right now.

Slippers- these are not included in the standard rooms, but they may be available if you ask when arriving

Teakettle- there is a one-cup coffee maker that tea can be made in

Wifi- yes there is free wifi

Transportation- here are your options for transportation:

- Light rail- this is the cheapest form of transportation
- We would recommend getting one of the car service apps- Lyft or Uber
- Taxis will also be available at the airport

Dear (b) (4),

Thank you for your quick response.

I am just wondering whether all the 8 reserved hotel rooms are equipped with king-size bed or not.

Does the reserved room at Hyatt Regency Phoenix provide slipper, teakettle, and free WIFI or not?

What is the best way to transport from Phoenix airport to the hotel and back?

Thank you for your continued support!

1. Please note that there is a spelling mistake for confirmation number (b) (4), whose name should (b) (4), rather than (b) (4). My apologies, this was a typo on my end and is all set.
2. Please let me know whether the breakfast is included into the room rate at your earliest convenience. Unfortunately, the hotel does not include a breakfast in the rate, but there are many options in and around the hotel for breakfast.
3. Please find attached herewith the passport, which I understand is our government ID, information of the 8 persons. I would be appreciated if you could send them to the hotel for receive the Government Per Diem Rate. The hotel said as long as they have passports that note they are government issued on them, these will be all set for check in.

Dear Mary Ann

I understand the situation that I heard from news of the Federal government shutdown. We regret that we won't see you in Phoenix.

As you know, Dr. Park of DG of NMSC will participate in the panel discussion on "Building Resiliency to Extreme Weather Events through International Partnerships with the Application of Advanced Satellite Technology".

Dr. Louis W. Uccellini is one of the panelists. He cannot participate in the AMS either?

I hope we can meet each other some time soon.

Best regards

Dear (b) (4),

I regret to inform you that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting and all official NOAA travel to Pheonix is cancelled. As a result, we'll need to cancel and reschedule the NOAA-CMA High Level Working Group on Satellite Matters.

While I've been granted temporary excepted status for today to conduct shutdown activities related to the cancellation of our participation in AMS, I will once again be furloughed and unable to check email or voicemail until the shutdown ends. I will be in touch as soon as possible once normal operations resume.

I deeply regret any inconvenience this causes you and your colleagues.

Dear (b) (4),

As I'm sure you're aware now, there is a partial shutdown of the U.S. Federal Government due to the lapse in appropriations funding and this shutdown impacts both NOAA and the Department of State.

I am in the office this morning for a few hours as part of our orderly shutdown procedures. However, I have no information to share on when the shutdown will end and whether or not it will do so in time to allow NOAA employees to travel to Phoenix next week. I do understand the inconvenience this causes for CMA's travel planning.

Also, I wanted to note that while the State Department office that processes and issues visas will continue to work as long as visa fees are sufficient to cover operating costs, our other State Department colleagues - including those working with me to administratively expedite your visa request - have been furloughed as well. This doesn't mean you won't receive the outstanding visas in time (if you haven't already); however, I am unable to further influence the process or monitor progress at this time.

Please accept my sincere apologies for the inconvenience the furlough has caused. I'll be in touch as soon as possible once normal operations resume.

Dear (b) (4),

I wanted to reach out to you personally regarding the cancellation of the COSMIC Interagency Working Group Meeting scheduled for January 7, 2018. While principally a meeting designed to facilitate coordination among US partner agencies we have always appreciated NSPO's participation and support. We were looking forward to co-hosting IWG meeting. As you're aware, unfortunately due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA is not be able to participate in the American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting this week.

I recognize that significant planning and expense have been undertaken for this meeting and I sincerely regret any inconvenience this causes NSPO. We value our partnership with NSPO and will be in touch once normal operations resume to discuss rescheduling this meeting.

I hope that if NSPO staff continue with their travel plans they will have a productive trip to Phoenix.

Folks,

We will work to get this note out to all on the AMS Group Travel list. For now, I am sending to my reports and Chief of Staff.

NWS is working closely with NOAA and the AMS to understand next steps regarding the AMS Conference and activities that begin as early as Saturday, January 6. Here is what we can tell you now:

1. AMS attendance is NOT an excepted activity during the lapse in appropriations. However, dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.
2. Airline Tickets: SATO's automated process will begin issuing tickets for trips 3-4 days in advance. This does not mean that your travel is approved. Tickets will also be cancelled within 24 hours of a trip if we do not have an appropriation.
3. Registration Fees: AMS has extended the cancellation deadline:
 - a. Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before (Thursday) January 3.
 - b. After January 3, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.
4. By or on Thursday, January 3, NOAA will be making a determination about NOAA participation at AMS, to allow for prudent cost avoidance. If the determination is for everyone to cancel their registration, you will likely be responsible for performing this action. We will also get clarifying information from NOAA/DOC General Counsel to answer several "what if" questions regarding personal roles with AMS, contract attendance and other ethics challenges.
5. Hotel Reservations: Some hotels have reduced their cancellation policy to 48 or 24 hours before expected arrival. Call your hotel to find out. If you made your hotel reservations yourself, you are responsible for cancelling your reservations.

We will use a phone tree to ensure all NOAA employees scheduled to attend the AMS receives this information.

Katie & George - if either of you know if there is an AMS Group Travel email list, please let us know.

Best,
Mary

Claudia & AMS Team,

Happy New Year, and thanks again for your graciousness in working together on the impacts of the gov shutdown.

We will be reaching out to all NOAA AMS attendees regarding AMS participation tomorrow and Thursday as a part of shutdown activities. We can pass on any specific questions you may have for particular individuals, but will suggest they complete the AMS survey noting that they cannot participate if the shutdown continues. We will also let them know they can coordinate the impact of their absence with AMS as a part of handling shutdown activities.

We will send you our General Counsel's official ruling when we have it, but to avoid confusion, I wanted to be sure you were aware that employees will not be able to participate remotely during the shutdown. Since most of their talks would be presenting in their official capacity as NOAA employees, this would constitute volunteering of time which is not allowed under Appropriations law. Most options in the survey will not be available for NOAA federal employees in most cases.

If the shutdown ends shortly before the AMS conference, or during the conference, some remote participation may be possible.

Best,
Mary

Options in survey:

- 1) Have a coauthor or colleague who can travel present for me (leave name in notes at end)
- 2) Pre-record my presentation and upload through Presenter's Corner
- 3) Present remotely in real-time
- 4) Withdraw my presentation

Hi (b) (4),

NOAA's final decision will still be Thursday. Some individuals, particularly ones who will need to lead employees through the post- shutdown administration, are being allowed to cancel before Thursday.

I agree it is difficult to deal with when not everyone has access to government email. I have heard that your forum posts reached a large audience. We will be sending information out to our employees on the AMS travel list through emails and phone trees, since it is for cost avoidance.

Please feel free to let me know if there is anything we can do on our end to help. We have been encouraging folks who are excepted to make plans for colleagues to step in as session chairs, etc if necessary. However, there may be some gov content that will not be able to be covered.

Best,

Mary

That's correct in terms of conducting work in an official capacity. For employees excepted from the furlough, they are only allowed to work on operational activities related to mission essential functions. For employees furloughed, they are not allowed to volunteer their time to perform any work-related duties remotely or in person.

We are currently checking with lawyers on the limits of what employees can do as private citizens. It is clear they cannot represent a government agency.

I wanted to update everyone on how we are working through some of the issues regarding the government shutdown. We have been in touch with our NWS contact about government travel to the annual meeting and AMS has worked through the following adjustments.

The hotels are now allowing cancellations 24 hours out from arrival.

AMS has shifted the registration cancellation deadline as noted below:

Refunds (less a $25 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before 21 December 2018.

Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before 3 January 2019.

After 3 January, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.

We are hoping that by making these adjustments, it will help to allow the extra time for the government shutdown to end.

We are currently working on a plan for remote presentations and will pass this along to our program chairs, session chairs, and authors next week if needed.

Thanks for your work on the meeting and please reach out with any questions.

Request for Posting: Mary Erickson, Deputy Director
National Weather Service

Subject: AMS Conference - Official NOAA Participation Cancelled

Distribution: NOAA Employees Scheduled to Attend AMS Annual Meeting

NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the AMS; all official NOAA travel to the AMS is cancelled. As Group Travel lead for the AMS Conference, NWS is distributing this email to all on the Group Travel List. We ask that senior leaders in an Excepted or Intermittent status use phone trees to ensure all employees are aware of this decision. Dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.

Starting today, NOAA will take actions for prudent cost avoidance.

1. Registration Fees: NOAA will send the AMS a list of all NOAA employees on the approved group travel list, and will ask that our pre-registrations be cancelled, and funds reimbursed (less the $75 processing fee). The AMS has agreed that this is the most efficient approach for them. You should receive a verification of this cancellation from AMS to your NOAA email. This is a change from yesterday's guidance.

2. Airline Tickets & SATO reservations: NOAA is notifying SATO that travel to Phoenix for all on the group travel list should be cancelled. This may begin earlier than the normal 24h cancellation process.

Employees Responsibility:

3. Hotel Reservations: We recommend all employees personally call their hotel to cancel their reservation to avoid a cancellation fee. Most reservations were not made through SATO. If you do not cancel your hotel reservations before the deadline, you will not be reimbursed for any costs incurred.

Following is additional guidance provided by the NOAA General Counsel in coordination with NOAA AGO:

- NOAA personnel who would have been speakers at the conference may not attend in their personal capacity and continue to be speakers. This includes in person and remote presentations (for example, teleconference).
- NOAA personnel who would be mere attendees at the conference may attend in their personal capacity at their own expense and without reimbursement when the lapse in appropriations ends. In the event the lapse ends while the conference is ongoing and an employee chose to attend the conference in their personal capacity, the employee may be placed in a leave status.
- NOAA personnel who previously registered using their Government-issued travel cards to pay for the conference registration, if NOAA's participation at the conference must be cancelled because of the continuation of the lapse:
 - NOAA must inform those employees who would otherwise have been attending as speakers or attendees in their official capacity that NOAA must cancel its participation.
 - All travel authorizations must be rescinded and employees must be told that official travel is being cancelled.
 - Employees may optionally attend the conference in their personal capacity.
 - If the employee registered BEFORE the lapse in appropriations and used a Government-issued travel card to cover the registration fee, then:
 - If the employee decides to attend in their personal capacity, NOAA will not reimburse the employee for their registration fee, and if the employee has already been reimbursed by NOAA for use of their travel card, the employee must remit the cost of the registration fee back to NOAA. The amount remitted may be credited back to the appropriation account from which it came as a refund.
 - If the employee decides NOT to attend in their personal capacity, they should cancel their registration. Employees should seek reimbursement for the cancellation fee that is not credited back to the card or refunded directly to the employee by AMS.
 - If the employee registered AFTER the lapse in appropriations, then the Government will NOT reimburse the employee for any costs the employee incurred.
 - If an employee made their own common carrier or lodging arrangements rather than through the travel management center as required by the FTR and Department policy, and the arrangements are non-refundable, NOAA will be unable to reimburse the employee for any such costs.

- Voluntary services and what may employees can do in their personal capacity vs official capacity. If NOAA made an administrative determination that presenting or moderating a panel was in official capacity, then we must stick with that determination. Employees can not voluntarily offer to perform their function (e.g., record presentation, video teleconference for presentation or panel, etc.)
- Contractors. A number of contractors will also be attending the AMS conference and certain contractor employees also have knowledge related to the issues for which government employees would have been presenting. There are two general variations on these inquiries:
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS irrespective of government participation, and employees of the Company have relevant knowledge or expertise. If company wants to assist AMS and moderate or present on a topic for which they have employees who have the knowledge and expertise, then it is up them if they as a company want to do so. In this scenario it must be made clear to both AMS and the company that the Government is not asking or directing the company's participation, that its participation/assistance is not within the scope of the contract with the Government, and that company's participation/assistance to AMS is between AMS and company. It should be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with this effort can be billed to the government.
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS, and was also going as a government support contractor. As a threshold matter, will need to determine what activity they are supporting. If government is not attending, then there is likely no need for support and it is not clear as to what they are supporting. Under this scenario, it should again be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with AMS attendance can be billed to the government.
 - If we are able to determine that the company is performing an activity under a government contract that continues at AMS, then will need to make sure:
 - contract was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee contractor (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Financial Assistance Recipients (inclusive of grants, cooperative agreements, and scholarship beneficiaries). A number of financial assistance recipients will also be attending and/or presenting at the AMS conference. This activity may continue consistent with the terms of the financial assistance award.
- If we are able to determine that the recipient is performing an activity under a financial assistance award, then will need to make sure:
 - the award was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee recipient (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations

- Please coordinate matters related to AMS attendance by contractors and financial assistance recipients with your respective Contracting or Grants Officer as identified in the memorandum entitled "Contract and Grants Guidance during a Lapse in Appropriations," dated December 22, 2018, issued by the Acquisition and Grants Office (AGO).

Folks,

John Luce called me and reminded me that there will be a complication if any early registering folks submitted and received approval of a voucher for the registration fee separately.

We should certainly not sign off on any vouchers that include the conference fee immediately after the shutdown, until all is sorted. We'll need to be aware that if someone gets reimbursed, but then cancelled - they would have to pay the govt back the reimbursement.

Lots of details!

Thanks,
Mary

NWS is working closely with NOAA and the AMS to understand next steps regarding the AMS Conference and activities that begin as early as Saturday, January 6. Here is what we can tell you now:

1. AMS attendance is NOT an excepted activity during the lapse in appropriations.
2. Airline Tickets: SATO's automated process will begin issuing tickets for trips 3-4 days in advance. This does not mean that your travel is approved. Tickets will also be cancelled within 24 hours of a trip if we do not have an appropriation.
3. Registration Fees: AMS has extended the cancellation deadline:
 - a. Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before (Thursday) January 3.
 - b. After January 3, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.
4. By or on Thursday, January 3, NOAA will be making a determination about NOAA participation at AMS, to allow for prudent cost avoidance. If the determination is for everyone to cancel their registration, you will likely be responsible for performing this action. We will also get clarifying information from NOAA/DOC General Counsel to answer several "what if" questions regarding personal roles with AMS, contract attendance and other ethics challenges.
5. Hotel Reservations: Some hotels have reduced their cancellation policy to 48 or 24 hours before expected arrival. Call your hotel to find out. If you made your hotel reservations yourself, you are responsible for cancelling your reservations.

Has someone done the same for the Ambassadors meeting, and if not, can you point me to a list of email addresses for attendees?

These notices are considered a part of orderly shutdown and deemed allowed by General Counsel. I am happy to do them, but didn't have the info.

We are particularly sorry that we will not be able to engage with you in our planned NWS Partners Meeting on Thursday, January 10. Our agenda for that meeting included a focus on the emerging threat of heat and fire as hazards, looking for opportunities to work more closely together as part of the broader Weather Enterprise. We also had a panel of NOAA/NWS experts lined up to share some important news and updates.

Given the lapse in appropriation, we simply could not prudently continue with the necessary preparations and travel plans required to execute an effective meeting. However, once we have funding, we would like to look for a way to re-engage with you, either through a subsequent spring Partners Meeting and/or a webinar or similar remote interaction. We will put together material (fact sheets and other updates) we planned to present in Phoenix as soon as possible when we get back on the job with our full strength and complement of employees.

Please know that we sincerely looked forward to seeing you next week and regret the missed opportunity. However, we know many of you will still be in attendance, and we wish you an engaging and productive AMS meeting. We will look for other ways to sustain and grow our partnership activities in the coming months.

On behalf of all of us at the National Weather Service, I wish you a very happy and fulfilling New Year!

Best,
Mary

Folks,

As requested, I just sent this cancellation notice. I went to post it to the AMS Bulletin Board, and saw a note from Tanja saying it was still on. We need to stay in tight communication here.

Tanja - I appreciate the instinct to help out the AMS and allow the community to meet, however, we have to make a clear distinction between gov activities and the community. We can't have someone lead a gov initiative on our behalf. We have worked closely with General Counsel this week to ensure we walk that line.

Can someone please clarify what the plan is here; and if it was cleared with Ethics Lawyers?

Thanks,
Mary

To:

Dear Weather Ready Nation Ambassadors & Roundtable Attendees,

With great regret, I write to inform you that our Weather Ready Ambassador Roundtable on Sunday afternoon, January 6th, will be cancelled. NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, we will be unable to participate in the 99th Annual Meeting of the American Meteorological Society (AMS). We were looking forward to our meeting to re-engage with Ambassadors and others, share success stories, discuss emerging challenges in communicating hazards and explore collaboration opportunities in 2019.

Once we have funding, we will look for other ways to network across this critical community. We wish you an engaging and productive AMS meeting, and expect that some of these topics will be explored in the hallways... we look forward to hearing your new ideas.

All the best,

The booth is managed by Les Adams in NOAA Communications who is furloughed. While the booth could be set-up by the outside vendor there would be no one there to manage it or speak at it. I would assume the vendor who is setting it up could assist with returning to the office.

New data point: We are working with vendor right now to recover some cost, but only if they do not set up the exhibit. So, that's our answer. It's being shipped back to Les asap. -s

Julie, et al ...

I was in touch with Les yesterday about it and he said the conference vendor is prepared to do either - keep the exhibit packed and ship it back to Les on Friday, or, set it up with no one to staff it. Regardless, we have spent $70,000 already and cannot recover any of that cost.

So the question is, what kind of signal do we want to send with the booth? Put it up and more directly show the impact of a shutdown, or ship it back and leave the empty 30x30 empty footprint on the carpet with no NOAA branding (except maybe a plain placard with the word NOAA). Either way, some non-NOAA AMS participants will take pics of the booth area and post to their social media channels saying it's shame no NOAA is not there. There's no financial cost difference.

Ame,

Yes, I just confirmed you were on the NESDIS list. I am not sure why you didn't receive the email today, we will check into it. If you want to be absolutely certain on the conference travel, you can send a verifying email to the AMS meetings address noting that you should be on the group list. I think that record will cover any possible hiccups.

AMERICAN

Subject Line:	AMS Conference - Official NOAA Participation Cancelled
Distribution:	NOAA Employees Scheduled to Attend AMS Annual Meeting

<All Hands.JPG>

NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, NOAA will not be able to participate in the AMS; all official NOAA travel to the AMS is cancelled. As Group Travel lead for the AMS Conference, NWS is distributing this email to all on the Group Travel List. We ask that senior leaders in an Excepted or Intermittent status use phone trees to ensure all employees are aware of this decision. Dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.

Starting today, NOAA will take actions for prudent cost avoidance.

1. Registration Fees: NOAA will send the AMS a list of all NOAA employees on the approved group travel list, and will ask that our pre-registrations be cancelled, and funds reimbursed (less the $75 processing fee). The AMS has agreed that this is the most efficient approach for them. You should receive a verification of this cancellation from AMS to your NOAA email. This is a change from yesterday's guidance.
2. Airline Tickets & SATO reservations: NOAA is notifying SATO that travel to Phoenix for all on the group travel list should be cancelled. This may begin earlier than the normal 24h cancellation process.

Employee Responsibility:

3. Hotel Reservations: We recommend all employees personally call their hotel to cancel their reservation to avoid a cancellation fee. Most reservations were not made through SATO. If you do not cancel your hotel reservations before the deadline, you will not be reimbursed for any costs incurred.

Following is additional guidance provided by the NOAA General Counsel in coordination with NOAA AGO:

- NOAA personnel who would have been speakers at the conference may not attend in their personal capacity and continue to be speakers. This includes in person and remote presentations (for example, teleconference).
- NOAA personnel who would be mere attendees at the conference may attend in their personal capacity at their own expense and without reimbursement when the lapse in appropriations ends. In the event the lapse ends while the conference is ongoing and an employee chose to attend the conference in their personal capacity, the employee may be placed in a leave status.
- NOAA personnel who previously registered using their Government-issued travel cards to pay for the conference registration, if NOAA's participation at the conference must be cancelled because of the continuation of the lapse:
 - NOAA must inform those employees who would otherwise have been attending as speakers or attendees in their official capacity that NOAA must cancel its participation.
 - All travel authorizations must be rescinded and employees must be told that official travel is being cancelled.
 - Employees may optionally attend the conference in their personal capacity.

- If the employee registered BEFORE the lapse in appropriations and used a Government-issued travel card to cover the registration fee, then:
 - If the employee decides to attend in their personal capacity, NOAA will not reimburse the employee for their registration fee, and if the employee has already been reimbursed by NOAA for use of their travel card, the employee must remit the cost of the registration fee back to NOAA. The amount remitted may be credited back to the appropriation account from which it came as a refund.
 - If the employee decides NOT to attend in their personal capacity, they should cancel their registration. Employees should seek reimbursement for the cancellation fee that is not credited back to the card or refunded directly to the employee by AMS.
 - If the employee registered AFTER the lapse in appropriations, then the Government will NOT reimburse the employee for any costs the employee incurred.
 - If an employee made their own common carrier or lodging arrangements rather than through the travel management center as required by the FTR and Department policy, and the arrangements are non-refundable, NOAA will be unable to reimburse the employee for any such costs.
- Voluntary services and what may employees can do in their personal capacity vs official capacity. If NOAA made an administrative determination that presenting or moderating a panel was in official capacity, then we must stick with that determination. Employees can not voluntarily offer to perform their function (e.g., record presentation, video teleconference for presentation or panel, etc.)
 - Contractors. A number of contractors will also be attending the AMS conference and certain contractor employees also have knowledge related to the issues for which government employees would have been presenting. There are two general variations on these inquiries:
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS irrespective of government participation, and employees of the Company have relevant knowledge or expertise. If company wants to assist AMS and moderate or present on a topic for which they have employees who have the knowledge and expertise, then it is up them if they as a company want to do so. In this scenario it must be made clear to both AMS and the company that the Government is not asking or directing the company's participation, that its participation/assistance is not within the scope of the contract with the Government, and that company's participation/assistance to AMS is between AMS and company. It should be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with this effort can be billed to the government.
 - Company is a contractor, will be at AMS, and was also going as a government support contractor. As a threshold matter, will need to determine what activity they are supporting. If government is not attending, then there is likely no need for support and it is not clear as to what they are supporting. Under this scenario, it should again be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with AMS attendance can be billed to the government.
 - If we are able to determine that the company is performing an activity under a government contract that continues at AMS, then will need to make sure:

- contract was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee contractor (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Financial Assistance Recipients (inclusive of grants, cooperative agreements, and scholarship beneficiaries). A number of financial assistance recipients will also be attending and/or presenting at the AMS conference. This activity may continue consistent with the terms of the financial assistance award.
 - If we are able to determine that the recipient is performing an activity under a financial assistance award, then will need to make sure:
 - the award was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee recipient (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
 - Please coordinate matters related to AMS attendance by contractors and financial assistance recipients with your respective Contracting or Grants Officer as identified in the memorandum entitled "Contract and Grants Guidance during a Lapse in Appropriations," dated December 22, 2018, issued by the Acquisition and Grants Office (AGO).

Employees can not voluntarily offer to perform their function (e.g., record presentation, video teleconference for presentation or panel, etc.)
 - Contractors. A number of contractors will also be attending the AMS conference and certain contractor employees also have knowledge related to the issues for which government employees would have been presenting. There are two general variations on these inquiries:

- Company is a contractor, will be at AMS irrespective of government participation, and employees of the Company have relevant knowledge or expertise. If company wants to assist

AMS and moderate or present on a topic for which they have employees who have the knowledge and expertise, then it is up to them if they as a company want to do so. In this scenario it must be made clear to both AMS and the company that the Government is not asking or directing the company's participation, that its participation/assistance is not within the scope of the contract with the Government, and that company's participation/assistance to AMS is between AMS and company. It should be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with this effort can be billed to the government.

- Company is a contractor, will be at AMS, and was also going as a government support contractor. As a threshold matter, will need to determine what activity they are supporting. If government is not attending, then there is likely no need for support and it is not clear as to what they are supporting. Under this scenario, it should again be made clear to the contractor that no costs associated with AMS attendance can be billed to the government.
- If we are able to determine that the company is performing an activity under a government contract that continues at AMS, then will need to make sure:
 - contract was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee contractor (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
- Financial Assistance Recipients (inclusive of grants, cooperative agreements, and scholarship beneficiaries). A number of financial assistance recipients will also be attending and/or presenting at the AMS conference. This activity may continue consistent with the terms of the financial assistance award.
 - If we are able to determine that the recipient is performing an activity under a financial assistance award, then will need to make sure:
 - the award was funded for this purpose prior to the lapse and the funding continues beyond the start of the lapse,
 - access to government systems and facilities are not required,
 - government personnel are not required to interact with or oversee recipient (we know that the relevant government employees are not otherwise funded nor exempt for this purpose), and
 - does not incur any additional government obligations
 - Please coordinate matters related to AMS attendance by contractors and financial assistance recipients with your respective Contracting or Grants Officer as identified in the memorandum entitled "Contract and Grants Guidance during a Lapse in Appropriations," dated December 22, 2018, issued by the Acquisition and Grants Office (AGO).

I received word from a support contractor that someone in AGO told them that if they were previously planning on attending AMS prior to the shutdown, they can still attend. I recall this may be counter to the conversation we had on Monday morning.

Thanks and Happy New Year,

Subject: Re: AMS heads up statements

Mary, John, Ben,

I appreciate the information and the message. For clarification, I am interpreting and support the notion that the message be sent to all NOAA travelers across the Lines. Consistent information is valuable.

For awareness, and possibly clarification amongst the questions that John is working is the status of the Cooperative Institute employees who are working on the NOAA mission, and their involvement in AMS. These CI people travel on funds that may or may not be included in their NOAA financial assistance award to their employer (the university that constitutes the Cooperative Institute), and they may be attending AMS independent of our travel funds. They are likely operating on funds provided in advance of the specific work performed and are accordingly doing their NOAA mission work which may include communicating their scientific findings to other peers via the AMS annual meeting. What they cannot do is step into the shoes of a NOAA employee who might otherwise be appearing at AMS to talk about agency programs or policy, but they can talk about and present on the science they have undertaken jointly with NOAA employees; just not representing the Agency. Is this correct?

Another point that I believe has been covered but to be sure, I'll re-state. If NOAA decides to order the cancellation of travel and registrations including hotels for government travelers, and subsequent to this action but before the end of the AMS annual meeting the Government is funded and NOAA employees return to work, there is no prohibition against NOAA employees obtaining supervisor's approval to travel and attend the remaining portions of the AMS, should the calendar and events allow, and should the supervisor deem such travel beneficial to the Agency's interests. Is this also correct?

Thank you, and Happy New Year to all,
Craig

NWS is working closely with NOAA and the AMS to understand next steps regarding the AMS Conference and activities that begin as early as Saturday, January 6. Here is what we can tell you now:

1. AMS attendance is NOT an excepted activity during the lapse in appropriations.
2. Airline Tickets: SATO's automated process will begin issuing tickets for trips 3-4 days in advance. This does not mean that your travel is approved. Tickets will also be cancelled within 24 hours of a trip if we do not have an appropriation.
3. Registration Fees: AMS has extended the cancellation deadline:
 - a. Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before (Thursday) January 3.
 - b. After January 3, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.
4. By or on Thursday, January 3, NOAA will be making a determination about NOAA participation at AMS, to allow for prudent cost avoidance. If the determination is for everyone to cancel their registration, you will likely be responsible for performing this action. We will also get clarifying information from NOAA/DOC General Counsel to answer several "what if" questions regarding personal roles with AMS, contract attendance and other ethics challenges.
5. Hotel Reservations: Some hotels have reduced their cancellation policy to 48 or 24 hours before expected arrival. Call your hotel to find out. If you made your hotel reservations yourself, you are responsible for cancelling your reservations.

From the AMS big group travel spreadsheet I am able to create the FIRST.LAST@noaa.gov emails. My only challenge will be if people did not put in their correct First or Last name so when I combine First.Last to @noaa.gov it may not be a correct email address.

I will do some proofing on those that look wrong to me but I know I won't catch them all.

I will break out the combined emails that I create into the respective line offices so others can review, if possible.

I should have this all done in 15 - 20 minutes.

NOAA legal has said this is a shutdown activity so if you have it, it is ok for you to send from your NOAA email.

We will send to NOAA addresses, but then use a phone tree to call everyone who is not excepted.

Folks,

We will work to get this note out to all on the AMS Group Travel list. For now, I am sending to my reports and Chief of Staff.

NWS is working closely with NOAA and the AMS to understand next steps regarding the AMS Conference and activities that begin as early as Saturday, January 6. Here is what we can tell you now:

1. AMS attendance is NOT an excepted activity during the lapse in appropriations. However, dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.
2. Airline Ticket SATO' automated process will begin issuing ticket for trip 3-4 day in advance. This does not mean that your travel is approved. Ticket will also be cancelled within 24 hours of a trip if we do not have an appropriation.
3. Registration Fees: AMS has extended the cancellation deadline:
 - a. Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before (Thursday) January 3.
 - b. After January 3, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.

4. By or on Thursday, January 3, NOAA will be making a determination about NOAA participation at AMS, to allow for prudent cost avoidance. If the determination is for everyone to cancel their registration, you will likely be responsible for performing this action. We will also get clarifying information from NOAA/DOC General Counsel to answer several "what if" questions regarding personal roles with AMS, contract attendance and other ethics challenges.

5. Hotel Reservations: Some hotels have reduced their cancellation policy to 48 or 24 hours before expected arrival. Call your hotel to find out. If you made your hotel reservations yourself, you are responsible for cancelling your reservations.

We will use a phone tree to ensure all NOAA employees scheduled to attend the AMS receives this information.

Katie & George - if either of you know if there is an AMS Group Travel email list, please let us know.

Best,
Mary

Below a first shot at a message.

Dear NWS Partners,

It is with great regret to report that, due to the federal government shutdown, NOAA and the National Weather Service will be unable to participate in the 99th Annual Meeting of the American Meteorological Society (AMS). We are particularly sorry that we will not be able to engage with you in our planned NWS Partners Meeting on Thursday, January 10. Our agenda for that meeting included a focus on the emerging threat of heat and fire as hazards, looking for opportunities to work more closely together as part of the broader Weather Enterprise. We also had a panel of NOAA/NWS experts lined up to share some important news and updates.

Given the uncertainty associated with the shutdown, we simply could not figure out a way to hedge our bets on a possibly shortened week (if an appropriations law is passed and signed) with the necessary preparations and travel plans required to execute an effective meeting. However, once a bill is passed and signed, we would like to look for a way to re-engage with you, either through a subsequent spring Partners Meeting and/or a webinar or similar remote interaction. We will put together material (fact sheets and other updates) we planned to present in Phoenix as soon as possible when we get back on the job with our full strength and complement of employees.

Please know that we sincerely looked forward to seeing you next week and regret the missed opportunity. But we will look for other ways to sustain and grow our partnership activities in the coming months. On behalf of all of us at the National Weather Service, I wish you a very happy New Year!

Our agenda for that meeting included a focus on the emerging threat of heat and fire as hazards, looking for opportunities to work more closely together as part of the broader Weather Enterprise. We also had a panel of NOAA/NWS experts lined up to share some important news and updates.

Given the lapse in appropriation, we simply could not prudently continue with the necessary preparations and travel plans required to execute an effective meeting. However, once we have funding, we would like to look for a way to re-engage with you, either through a subsequent spring Partners Meeting and/or a webinar or similar remote interaction. We will put together material (fact sheets and other updates) we planned to present in Phoenix as soon as possible when we get back on the job with our full strength and complement of employees.

Please know that we sincerely looked forward to seeing you next week and regret the missed opportunity. However, we know many of you will still be in attendance, and we wish you an engaging and productive AMS meeting. We will look for other ways to sustain and grow our partnership activities in the coming months.

On behalf of all of us at the National Weather Service, I wish you a very happy and fulfilling New Year!

Best,
Mary

All,

FYI - I received additional names from NESDIS of AMS travelers today. These folks were late additions just before the shutdown hence why there were not on the AMS Group Travel list.

I have already forwarded the names of individuals who have travel arrangements that need to be canceled by SATO to EJ. You should have received my email to him.

In addition, these individuals have already cancelled their AMS and hotel registrations, if they made them.

No further action is required other than SATO needing to cancel their travel arrangements.

I have attached an updated Word Document with the additional names for completeness and to make sure you have the updated, just in case you need it at your finger tips.

Thanks,

Andrea

Folks,

As requested, I just sent this cancellation notice. I went to post it to the AMS Bulletin Board, and saw a note from Tanja saying it was still on. We need to stay in tight communication here.

Tanja - I appreciate the instinct to help out the AMS and allow the community to meet, however, we have to make a clear distinction between gov activities and the community. We can't have someone lead a gov initiative on our behalf. We have worked closely with General Counsel this week to ensure we walk that line.

Can someone please clarify what the plan is here; and if it was cleared with Ethics Lawyers?

Thanks,
Mary

Subject: Weather Ready Nation Ambassadors Roundtable Cancelled

To:

Dear Weather Ready Nation Ambassadors & Roundtable Attendees,

With great regret, I write to inform you that our Weather Ready Ambassador Roundtable on Sunday afternoon, January 6th, will be cancelled. NOAA has determined that due to the lapse in appropriations, we will be unable to participate in the 99th Annual Meeting of the American Meteorological Society (AMS). We were looking forward to our meeting to re-engage with Ambassadors and others, share success stories, discuss emerging challenges in communicating hazards and explore collaboration opportunities in 2019.

Once we have funding, we will look for other ways to network across this critical community. We wish you an engaging and productive AMS meeting, and expect that some of these topics will be explored in the hallways... we look forward to hearing your new ideas.

All the best,
Mary

Arranger - MARKEL, ANNE

December 11, 2018 at 02:06 PM

Prepared by Anne Markel, 828-271-4102. POV mileage, checked baggage fees, airport parking, In-flight internet, and uber/taxi are authorized. Hotel reservations were made outside of E2 by the traveler. Hotel is over per diem amount and traveler will pay the difference out of pocket, so only the per diem amount is claimed on the authorization. Registration fee reimbursement is authorized via travel voucher due to a meal being provided as part of the registration fee, which means a purchase card could not be used. Approval of travel scheduled to be accomplished on or after October 1, 2018 is contingent upon approval of FY2019 Funds. No such travel may be undertaken or fiscal obligations related to such travel may be incurred until such funds have been appropriated and become legally available for obligation. Approved to purchase ticket for FY2019 with FY2018 funds due to multiyear funding/no-year funding.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE

Silver Spring, Maryland 20910-3283
THE DIRECTOR

ACTION-DECISION:

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY

FROM: Benjamin Friedman
Acting Under Secretary of Commerce
for Oceans and Atmosphere

SUBJECT: Secretarial Waiver and Approval for NOAA to Attend the 2019 American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, on January 6-10, 2019

ACTION FORCING EVENT:

A waiver granted by the Secretary to the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) policy on conferences outlined in OMB Memo M-12-12 (attached) is required in order for NOAA to spend an estimated $1,298,642.03 to send 463 representatives to the 99th American Meteorological Society (AMS) Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona on January 6-10, 2019.

OMB M-12-12, Promoting Efficient Spending to Support Agency Operations, May 11, 2012, directs that agencies shall not incur expenses in excess of $500,000, of its own funds, on a single conference, including conferences that are sponsored or hosted by the agency (or by other Federal or non-Federal entities). The agency head may provide a waiver from this policy if he or she determines that exceptional circumstances exist whereby spending in excess of $500,000 on a single conference is the most cost-effective option to achieve a compelling purpose. The grounds for any such waiver must be documented in writing by the agency head.

ANALYSIS:

The Department of Commerce has even stronger internal procedures for conference pre-approvals. Events with estimated net costs of $100,000 or more require pre-approval by the Deputy Secretary; events with estimated net costs of $500,000 or more must be accompanied by a Secretarial waiver. Bureau conference Points Of Contact (POCs) must notify the Office of Financial Management (OFM) of any upcoming conference requiring pre-approval and provide a pre-approval package to include approval memos by Bureau leadership, a synopsis explaining the purpose of the event, a breakdown of costs (M&IE, lodging, transportation, AV equipment rental, supplies/materials, etc.), a completed conference planning checklist, copies of any Independent Government Cost Estimates or Memorandums of Understanding, agendas, website links and any other pertinent information. OFM reviews all documentation for consistency, accuracy, and appropriateness, working with the Bureau POCs on clarifications. The package is then submitted for approval/clearance to the Departmental CFO/Assistant Secretary for Administration, and eventually to the Deputy Secretary or Secretary (for $500,000+).

NOAA is requesting approval to send 463 representatives to this conference (speakers, presenters, panelists, and/or session chairs). The approved request for the 2018 AMS Annual Meeting was 424 employees for an estimated total of $1,111,197. The approved request for the 2017 AMS Annual Meeting was 452 employees for an estimated total of $1,393,650. The increased number of participants reflects the focused participation of NOAA employees engaged in mission-critical activities, programs, initiatives, and external engagements. The number is higher this year than in other years because we are not facing the travel restrictions of recent years. Additionally, there are more focused activities related to "Evolving NOAA to create a Weather-Ready Nation."

This is the most cost effective way to achieve the compelling purpose of engaging the broad weather, water, and climate enterprise across all of NOAA's mission areas because of how many joint/concurrent conferences and symposia there are, and thousands of students and professionals attend the meeting. More specifically, NOAA management used several factors while evaluating increased participation to meet mission requirements in a cost effective manner:

- National Academy of Public Administration (NAPA) report, Forecast for the Future: Assuring the Capacity of the National Weather Service. This report offers to achieve a Weather-Ready Nation (WRN), it [NOAA] cannot fully achieve the vision on its own and that it takes considerable engagement and close collaboration with public and private sector partners. The report also recommended NOAA examine its training and development strategies and technology to build an improved training framework that marries the science, leadership, and decision support skills needed to ensure the success of a WRN.
- The vast majorities of attendees are delivering oral presentations, poster presentations, and/or are chairs of a session(s). We have many more NOAA employees who wanted to present their work but are not on the group travel list.
- The AMS annual meeting occurs at the beginning of a very exciting calendar year for NOAA satellite launches. Jason-3, GOES-R, and JPSS are scheduled to launch in 2016 and this is the most launches in a single year over at least the past decade. Interactions with the users of the satellite data, thousands of them at this meeting, are critical to maximizing the value of the data provided by the satellites.
- NOAA is also involved in the Decadal Survey (NASA, NOAA, and USGS ask the National Research Council once each decade to look out ten or more years into the future and prioritize research areas, observations, and notional missions to make those observations) and the Commercial Data Policy and Process. These are high-visibility activities that will engage thousands of key stakeholders as they are considered and executed.
- The "enterprise" that attends the AMS annual meeting is no longer defined as just the weather enterprise, but the "Weather, Water, and Climate Enterprise". The AMS embraces this expansion into water and climate, and a larger group of NOAA expertise attending the AMS annual meeting is required to make this partnership work.

- In 2019, there are 39 conferences and symposia, and the list below highlights new conferences and symposia or those that have significantly grown in importance for NOAA this year:
 - Richard Anthes Symposium: Celebration of his diverse contributions to the atmospheric sciences
 - Inez Fung Symposium – The Future of the biosphere – atmosphere science
 - Environmental Information Processing Technologies
 - Special Symposium on Hydrology
 - Special Symposium on Climate Variability and Change
 - 18th Annual AMS Student Conference – Weathering Together: Building a Climate of Diverse Community Perspectives
 - IMPACTS: Major Weather Impacts of 2018
 - 10th Conference on Weather, Climate, and the New Energy Economy
 - 10th Conference on Environment and Health (growth in importance to NOAA)
 - 6th Conference on Transition of Research to Operations (special focus for NOAA)
 - 5th Annual Symposium on the Weather And Climate Enterprise (growth in importance to NOAA)
 - 7th Symposium on Building a Weather-Ready Nation: Enhancing Our Nation's Readiness, Responsiveness, and Resilience to High Impact Weather Events (growth in importance to NOAA)
 - 5th Symposium on High Performance Computing for Weather, Water, and Climate
 - 9th Symposium on Advances in Modeling and Analysis Using Python

NOAA determined that the AMS annual meeting held on January 6-10, 2019, will provide the increased numbers of NOAA attendees a unique opportunity to meet expanding mission requirements.

STATEMENT OF URGENCY:

The AMS annual meeting requires approval by December 3, 2018 in order to take advantage of the early bird registration rates, which could save the federal government over $16,000 in travel costs. The early bird registration rates expire on December 3, 2018 and over 400+ NOAA employees need to register.

RECOMMENDATION:

I recommend you approve the waiver for single conference expenditures over $500,000 to allow NOAA to spend $1,298,642.03 (estimate) to send 463 representatives to the 2019 American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting, in Phoenix, Arizona on January 6-10, 2019.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT CLEARANCE:

SECRETARY'S DECISION

Approval of waiver to expend $1,298,642.03 (estimate) for 463 NOAA representatives to the 99th American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting, in Phoenix, Arizona, on January 6-10, 2019.

I approve the waiver to expend $1,298,642.03 (estimated) for 463 NOAA representatives to the 2019 American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, January 6-10, 2019.

I do not approve the waiver to expend $1, 298,642.03 (estimated) for 463 NOAA representatives to the 2019 American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, January 6-10, 2019.

I approve as amended the waiver to expend $1,298,642.03 (estimated) for 463 NOAA representatives to the 2019 American Meteorological Society Annual Meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, January 6-10, 2019.

I would like to discuss this issue.

Subject: Update on AMS Conference

Distribution: Employees Scheduled to Attend the AMS Annual Meeting

The NWS, as Group Travel lead for the AMS conference, is working closely with NOAA and the AMS to understand next steps regarding the AMS Conference and activities that begin as early as Saturday, January 5. Here is what we can tell you now:

1. AMS attendance is NOT an excepted activity during the lapse in appropriations. However, dealing with the impacts of the shutdown on our scheduled attendance at AMS is considered a shutdown activity.
2. Airline Tickets: SATO's automated process will begin issuing tickets for trips 3-4 days in advance. This does not mean that your travel is approved. Tickets will also be cancelled within 24 hours of a trip if we do not have an appropriation.
3. On Thursday, January 3, NOAA will be making a determination about NOAA participation at AMS, to allow for prudent cost avoidance. If the determination is for everyone to cancel their pre-registration, you will likely be responsible for performing this action. We will also get clarifying information from NOAA/DOC General Counsel to answer several "what if" questions regarding personal roles with AMS, contract attendance and other ethics challenges.
4. Registration Fees: AMS has extended the cancellation deadline:
 - a. Refunds (less a $75 processing fee) will be granted for cancellations received on or before, Thursday, January 3.
 - b. After January 3, refunds for cancelled registrations will not be granted.
5. Hotel Reservations: Some hotels have reduced their cancellation policy to 48 or 24 hours before expected arrival. Call your hotel to find out. If you made your hotel reservations yourself, you are responsible for cancelling your reservations.
6. AMS Presenters and Session Chairs: AMS has posted a survey asking participants to indicate whether they will be able to attend or not. You may respond and inform co-authors or co-leads of your inability to attend. If the government remains shut down, employees will not be able to participate in the AMS remotely. Further guidance on what participation will be allowable will be provided if we receive an appropriation.
